

Transparent and Reproducible Research with R

Daniel Anderson

Joshua Rosenberg

July 13, 2018

Provide the course title and description. This information will be used on the AERA Annual Meeting Registration website, in promotional materials, and in the Annual Meeting Program. Developing a clear course description is very important as it is the only information the participant will see prior to registering for the course. Provide a concise description (250 words) that addresses the following:

- Course content
- Format (e.g. lecture, hands-on exercises, group work)
- Course objectives
- Target audience (e.g., graduate students, early career scholars, advanced researchers)
- Prerequisite skills or knowledge
- Potential assignments
- Required material and equipment (e.g., data sets and laptop)